

Overdose deaths among Staten Island residents, 2017

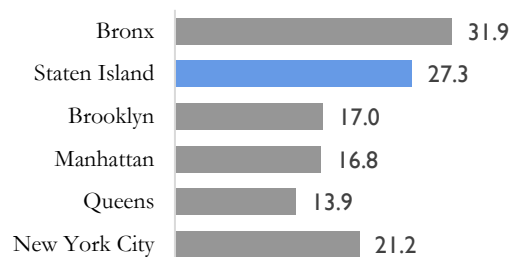

101 Staten Island residents died of a drug overdose

27.3 per 100,000 residents died of a drug overdose

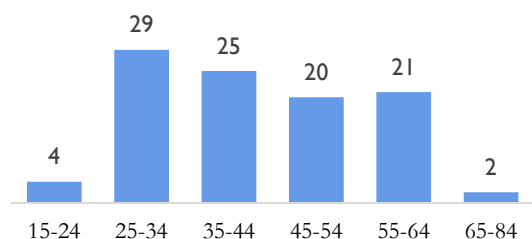

Staten Island residents had the lowest number of overdose deaths

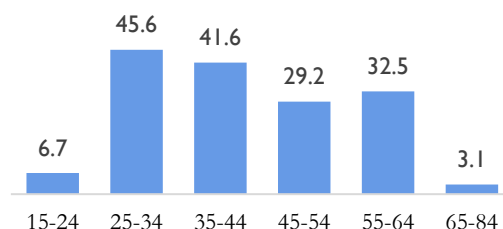

Staten Island residents had the second highest rate of overdose deaths (per 100,000 residents)

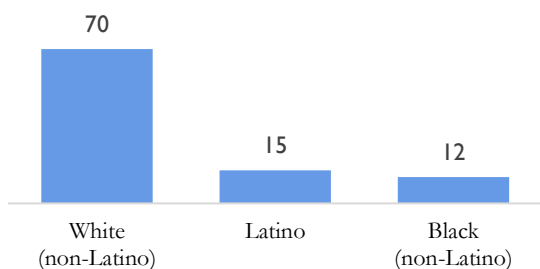

Staten Islanders aged 25-44 accounted for most overdose deaths

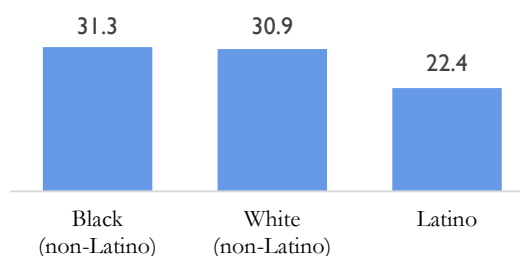

Staten Islanders aged 25-34 had the highest rate of overdose deaths (per 100,000 residents)

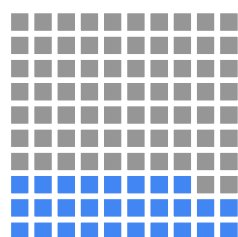

White Staten Island residents had the largest number of overdose deaths

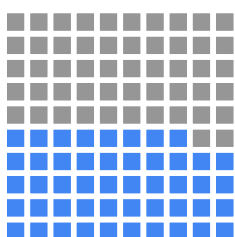

Black and White Staten Island residents had higher rates of overdose deaths (per 100,000 residents)

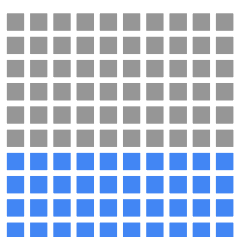

Substances involved in drug overdose deaths, Staten Island residents (not mutually exclusive)

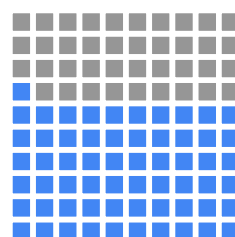

Alcohol
28%

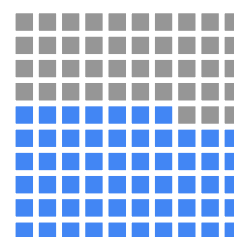

Benzodiazepines
48%

Cocaine
40%

Fentanyl
61%

Heroin
57%